EDCO Steel	vs	Asphalt
Lasts Forever <ul style="list-style-type: none"> EDCO steel roofing panels are built to last a lifetime, backed by a non-prorated limited lifetime warranty which includes an unmatched fade warranty and a class 4 impact rating. 		Limited Product Life <ul style="list-style-type: none"> The average life span of asphalt shingles is 15-20 years, depending upon weather conditions. Constructed of paper, tar and ceramic particles, asphalt shingles breakdown over time from exposure to sun, wind, snow and ice.
EDCO Steel	vs	Stone Coated
Permanently Fused <ul style="list-style-type: none"> EDCO uses a proprietary thermal fuse process to permanently affix particles onto the panel providing a lifetime of consistent appearance, uniform texture and protection from the elements. 		Surface Application <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Stone granules, which are glued to the surface, break loose over time and can accumulate in your gutters.
EDCO Steel	vs	Wood Shakes
Consistent Beauty <ul style="list-style-type: none"> EDCO roofing panels maintain their original natural look for a lifetime. Backed with a fade warranty, your roof will maintain its beautiful appearance for years to come. 		Fades and Degrades <ul style="list-style-type: none"> With constant exposure to sun, moisture and potential mildew build up, wood shakes will change in appearance and decompose over time leaving your home exposed to the elements.

Where do I begin?

Five things to consider if you are in need of a new roof on your home.

1. Don't delay replacing your roof. It could result in significant issues in the future.
2. Select a material, such as steel, that can give you the best return on your investment.
3. Consult your insurance agent to determine if any discounts are available with a specific type of roofing material.
4. Find a licensed and reputable contractor with experience installing the material you have chosen.
5. All warranties are NOT created equal. Read the fine print to really understand the warranty that comes with your choice.
